

Did you know?

Perhaps as many as 5% of men crossdress.

Most crossdressers are heterosexual and not gay.

It's about gender, not sex (there is a difference).

Crossdressing is NOT a psychological disorder.

Many spouses find they can live with, enjoy and support their husband's crossdressing.

You can finally enjoy guiltless crossdressing.

Testimonials of Joy

The Tri-Ess organization is my first real freedom I have had in 40 years of being a crossdresser. The closet is a very lonely place, just the opposite of Tri-Ess. There are no friends in the closet, just the opposite in Tri-Ess. In the closet you have dreams and hopes. At Tri-Ess they come true. The closet doesn't have a lot of space to walk and dance. Tri-Ess has big rooms and lots of open area to walk and dance and have fun. There may be makeup and mirrors in the closet, but Tri-Ess has real ladies to help you and to be a friend. Tri-Ess gives you your freedom to come out of the closet, dress up, be all you can be with open area to walk, talk and to make friends and to really live the life you know as a crossdresser. It's something you and I have always wanted or would like in this world. Tri-Ess helps us, and the people around us, to understand by teaching them and us what crossdressing is about. This is the freedom that I have and live with, at Tri-Ess, Please come and join us and have your freedom.

Darlene

For me Tri-Ess is about friendship, support, and having the opportunity to give-back to the community through educational outreach on college campuses.

Alicia

Joining Tri-Ess gave me my life back.

Gloria

As a wife of a crossdresser, I enjoy meeting with other wives and sharing our experiences and ways to educate ourselves, so that we can strengthen our relationships and support our husbands.

Providing support, serenity and service to crossdressers for over 40 years.

Perhaps you feel alone.
Different.
Even ashamed.

Isn't it time to let those feelings go?

We are a group of like-minded individuals who understand your feelings, share your dreams and respect your right to self-expression.

Chi-Chapter is the Chicagoland chapter of an international support and social organization focused on the needs of heterosexual crossdressers, single or married, their spouses or significant others, children and friends.

We welcome you to meet us and learn all that we have to offer.

Our Vision

A world with less prejudice, crossdressing free of guilt, confusion and fear. An ideal worth the pursuit.

Our Mission

Our mission is to provide Service, Serenity and Support to the CD and his wife or significant partner.

At Chi-Chapter we provide...

Place

A private meeting place where you can dress and maintain your confidentiality, supported by a service staff that understands our needs.

People

- Each member has a story of his crossdressing experiences. Sharing strengthens our spirits.
- Meet people of all walks of life and be enriched while making new friends.
- Wives and significant others also have a place to share, in confidence and with comfort.
- And, there are many CD friendly vendors to help you create or improve your look.

Programs

A newcomers program welcomes first-timers in a small private group meeting to calm fears about coming out.

Wives and SO's meet in a private setting to discuss issues relevant to their relationship with their crossdressing partner.

Couples Group is a rotating meeting held at different homes, bringing the CD and his wife together for socializing and support in a non-crossdressed event.

Outreach is provided at colleges, universities and other places willing to listen and learn from our members.

Guest Speakers make presentations to us several times a year. These are acknowledged experts in the area of gender.

Panels are conducted periodically at our meetings to discuss and explore the experiences of others in an open forum.

Parties are a time to dress to the nines, share a meal enjoy entertainment and dance!

Conventions are sponsored by Chi-Chapter for educational and social purposes.

Web sites, such as ours, provide a wealth of additional information and links to other sites.

Counselor connections can be provided in the form of therapists who understand the needs of our community.

Membership

Our doors are open to all those who identify as or support crossdressers. Membership is open to those who share the Tri-Ess premise of support for heterosexual crossdressers, their spouses or partners, children and friends.

No one should live in fear, guilt or shame. The Chi-Chapter of Tri-Ess can help make that change.
